

BREMEN DETECTIVES

The Bremen Detectives project turned our EL2 students into little city explorers! Every three weeks, a new piece of a digital puzzle, made from self-made photos of Bremen landmarks, was shared on the school's Instagram and Facebook pages. Each puzzle piece came with a fun challenge or quiz, inviting the ISB community to help by sharing hints and clues in the comments.

Challenge 1

Have you spotted paintings, sculptures, or any other representations of the famous musicians around the city? Share your clues, street names, or photos here or via email to guide our little detectives!

After the hunt, the kids will get creative - drawing, storytelling, or making funny pictures inspired by their discoveries!

Challenge 2

Put on your detective hats! Round 2: it's time to investigate again.

What do these two pieces have in common?

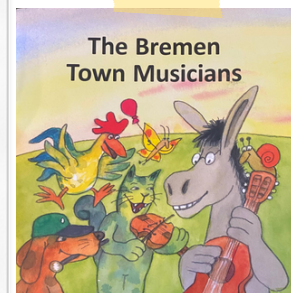

For the next two weeks, you are the clue finders. Write your guesses, smartest ideas and sneakiest clues right here.

In the classroom, students dove into the challenge, explored their surroundings, asked questions, and even collect stories from friends, neighbours, and family.

The challenge topic also became front and center during math and literacy lessons, through reading stories and featuring it in the learning material.

Each three weeks cycle ultimately concluded with creative activities, before the next challenge stepped into the spotlight.
